PDS and Deltek Costpoint Manufacturing: A Perfect Match!

Need visibility into manufacturing costs at the project level?

PDS implements and supports manufacturers working on government contracts with Deltek Costpoint Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) software. Costpoint's integrated manufacturing solutions combine project accounting, material, inventory, purchasing and supply chain management into one scalable, secure, government compliant solution transforming the field in business intelligence. Get in touch to learn more!

88%
of organizations say their ERP solution helped them succeed.[1]

47%
of all ERP users are part of the manufacturing sector.[2]

23%
reduced operational costs.[2]

22%
reduced administrative costs.[2]

Here are the top five benefits firms like yours enjoy from implementing ERP:

Digitizing Manufacturing Operations

Digitize your shop floor by leveraging a full suite of features geared specifically toward materials management and advanced manufacturing. And take full advantage of manufacturing resource planning (MRP) tools such as a master production schedule, action messages, recommendations and project planning algorithms.

Real-time Business Intelligence

Gain deep visibility into your organization with reports and customizable dashboards. Be better equipped to spot and leverage trends with the solution's AI assistant. Review information by organization, project type, project profit or project manager to comprehend costs, develop opportunities and forecast future demand.

Enhanced Material Planning & Scheduling

Establish a concrete understanding of current inventory levels, accurately forecast future sales and establish optimized production and purchasing schedules. Automate key aspects of the procurement process to minimize manual data entry and cut cycle times. And build better vendor relationships by facilitating secure and efficient business transactions.

Manufacturing Quality Control

Leverage deep data insights and ISO9001 support to verify material, product and service conformance. Further improve quality control with mandated inspections and traceable inventory.

Overall GovCon Compliance

Stay DCAA compliant and meet complex contract requirements with a web-based time and expense system. Maximize your business opportunities while comprehensively tracking your costs – including direct and indirect costs, accounting costs, billing costs and labor costs.
